

Show Guide

Sonia De Los Santos
MÚSICA

This guide will prepare you for the show Música.
It will help you know what to expect at the New Victory Theater.

If I get nervous or feel scared, I can:

Cover or close my eyes.

Talk to my grown-up.

Cover my ears with my hands or put on headphones.

Use a fidget tool.

You are coming to the New Victory Theater to see Música!

Photo: Chuy Gutierrez

Música is a 70 minute bilingual concert. The performers will be speaking and singing in both Spanish and English.

There is no intermission during Música. However, if you need to take a break you can leave the theater and return at any point.

Música is performed by Sonia De Los Santos and her all-female bandmates. The musicians will be playing an assortment of instruments in a variety of styles.

Meet Sonia and her bandmates below!
Find out where they call home and the instruments they play in Música.

Sonia de los Santos
(pictured with a jarana)

Home is:
Mexico and
New York City

Instruments played
in Música:
Acoustic Guitar
Electric Guitar
Jarana

Erica Kika Parra
(pictured with a drum)

Home is:
Colombia and
New York City

Instruments played
in Música:
Drums
Cajón

Elena Moon Park

(pictured playing a violin with a trumpet at her feet)

Home is:
Korea and
New York City

Instruments played
in Música:
Jarana
Trumpet
Violin

Berta Moreno

(pictured with a saxophone)

Home is:
Spain

Instruments played in Música:
Clarinet
Saxophone

Elena Lacayo

(pictured with a guitarron)

Home is:
Nicaragua

Instruments played in Música:
Guitarron

Argelia Arreola

(pictured below)

Home is:
Mexico and
New York City

Instruments played
in Música:
Jarana
Percussion
Donkey Jaw

Acoustic Guitar

a stringed instrument with a flat body, a long neck with frets, and strings that are played with the fingers or with a pick

Cajón

a box-shaped percussion instrument played by slapping the front or back faces with the hands, fingers, brushes, mallets or sticks

Clarinet

a tube shaped woodwind instrument with intricate keys, a single-reed mouthpiece, and a flared, bell-shaped end played by blowing through the mouthpiece and moving the keys

Donkey Jaw

a percussion instrument made from the jawbone of a donkey played by striking the teeth with a hand or stick

Drum

a percussion instrument consisting of a hollow cylinder with a thin layer of material stretched over one or both ends played with the hands or a stick

Electric Guitar

a stringed instrument with a flat body, a long neck with frets, and strings that are played with the fingers or with a pick and magnified electrically

Guitarron

a large acoustic bass guitar played with the fingers

Jarana

a guitar-like stringed instrument

Percussion

a percussive instrument such as a gong, bell, cymbal, rattle and tambourine

Saxophone

a curved woodwind instrument with a single-reed mouthpiece and finger keys played by blowing through the mouthpiece and moving the keys

Trumpet

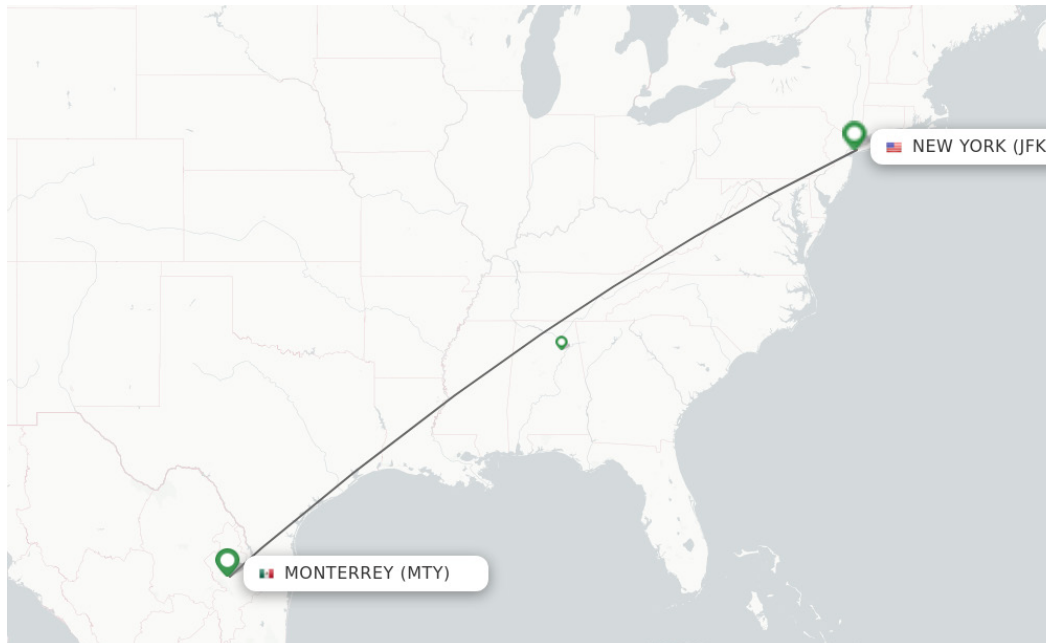

a tube shaped brass instrument ending in a flared bell and played by blowing through the mouthpiece and making a buzzing sound

Violin

a stringed instrument with a shallow body, a fingerboard without frets played with a bow

Música includes a collection of songs highlighting Sonia De Los Santos' Mexican heritage and her family's journey to New York.

Musical Numbers

(Subject To Change)

Música
¡Alegría!
Mi Casa
Crecer
Hey, Little Bunny!
Songs For The People
Esperanza
Sombrero
Chichimoco
Fan-Dan-Go
¡Fiesta, Fiesta!

Sing along with Sonia!
Visit her website for lyrics to her songs in both Spanish and English.

Música also celebrates women who make music and those who inspired Sonia and her bandmates to become musicians.

Photo: Chuy Gutierrez

FUN FACT: Música means both “music” and “a female musician” in Spanish!

During Música, Sonia and her bandmates will be standing in a semicircle at the front of the stage. As they play their instruments and sing, they will invite the audience to stand, move freely at their seats, clap and sing along with the music when they feel inspired.

You are welcome to engage with Sonia and her bandmates in any way that feels comfortable to you.

If it gets too loud in the theater, you can cover your ears, request headphones from an usher or take a break.

Photo: Mark LaRosa

We hope you enjoy Música at the New Victory Theater!

Please find the rest of our Sensory Friendly show dates below:

Aanika's Elephants
April 5, 2024 at 11am

I'm Possible
April 19, 2024 at 11am

Four Go Wild in Wellies
June 5, 2024 at 11am