

2021-22 NEW VICTORY Education Partnership Program

The New Victory believes that performing arts should be a vital part of everyone's life from the earliest years on. Through the NEW VICTORY Education Partnership Program, New Victory opens new worlds for Pre-K-12 grade students in New York City schools and beyond through extraordinary performances and education resources.

The 2021-22 Education Partnership Program includes a season of live and digital productions; interactive performing arts workshops with NEW VICTORY Teaching Artists, both in digital learning spaces and in classrooms on school sites; unlimited access to a library of teacher guides and instructional videos; and professional learning sessions.

Each resource unit around a production or other content infuses creativity across school curricula, is culturally responsive and is flexible to meet the goals and needs of all schools. NEW VICTORY Teaching Artists invite students to engage in active arts exploration using trauma-informed and social justice practices to spark imagination, build ensemble and community, ignite agency and inspire hope.
